Question No.887.

887. *Mr. Sham Lal: Will Government be pleased to state:

(a) the number of local bodies (District Boards and Municipalities etc.) enforcing registration of marriages, births, and deaths within their jurisdiction in the centrally administered areas; and

(b) if the number of local bodies, which do not insist on registration of marriages, is still large, whether the Government propose to take any action in the matter as a check to abductions from one place to another.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Craik:

(a) The registration of births and deaths is enforced in the jurisdiction of all local bodies in the centrally administered areas. The registration of marriages is enforced only by 3 out of the 20 local bodies.

(b) I am not sure how far the compulsory registration of marriages will act as a check on abduction of women: but I am prepared to communicate copies of this question and my reply to the administrations concerned.
